

GARANTİYDS
YDS ZİRVE 7.KELİME DENEMESİ
Mini Deneme

1.Although the hypothesis initially appeared promising, further investigation revealed that several of its underlying assumptions were fundamentally ----, making the theoretical framework difficult to sustain under rigorous empirical scrutiny.

- A) untenable
- B) redundant
- C) marginal
- D) preliminary
- E) partial

2.In order to address complex global challenges such as climate change and economic inequality, policymakers must ---- insights from diverse academic disciplines rather than relying on a single analytical perspective.

- A) dismiss
- B) integrate
- C) neglect
- D) distort
- E) exclude

3.The author presents a remarkably ---- examination of the political transformations that reshaped the region during the late twentieth century.

- A) cursory
- B) superficial
- C) exhaustive
- D) incidental
- E) peripheral

4.Some scholars argue that the interpretation offered in the article is overly ---- because it attributes a multifaceted historical process to a single causal factor.

- A) comprehensive
- B) balanced
- C) nuanced
- D) reductionist
- E) multidimensional

5.Given the limited number of participants involved in the experiment, the results should be regarded as ---- rather than definitive.

- A) conclusive
- B) definitive
- C) categorical
- D) indisputable
- E) provisional

6.The committee remained ---- about the practicality of the proposal, noting that several economic variables had not been sufficiently examined.

- A) skeptical
- B) enthusiastic
- C) optimistic
- D) confident
- E) assertive

7. Researchers have attempted to ---- a theoretical model capable of explaining the intricate interactions between technological innovation and social change.

- A) dismantle
- B) construct
- C) obscure
- D) weaken
- E) invalidate

8. Critics maintain that the author adopts an excessively ---- stance, refusing to acknowledge alternative interpretations proposed by other scholars.

- A) flexible
- B) tentative
- C) cautious
- D) dogmatic
- E) adaptive

9. The newly uncovered archival documents appear to ---- long-standing assumptions about the origins of the conflict.

- A) challenge
- B) reinforce
- C) illustrate
- D) validate
- E) support

10. Despite its apparently narrow focus, the study has ---- implications for future research in several related disciplines.

- A) trivial
- B) negligible
- C) marginal
- D) limited
- E) far-reaching

11. Throughout the article, the author maintains a ---- tone, carefully avoiding sweeping generalizations that cannot be substantiated by the available data.

- A) restrained
- B) radical
- C) hostile
- D) dismissive
- E) aggressive

12. The reform program seeks to ---- accountability within public institutions by establishing more transparent administrative procedures.

- A) undermine
- B) promote
- C) obscure
- D) diminish
- E) weaken

13.The researcher attempted to ---- subtle correlations within the dataset that might otherwise remain unnoticed.

- A) disregard
- B) conceal
- C) discern
- D) distort
- E) abandon

14.The historian's work is widely admired for its ---- analysis of diplomatic relations in the early modern period.

- A) superficial
- B) limited
- C) casual
- D) meticulous
- E) random

15.Despite decades of scientific inquiry, the precise mechanisms underlying the phenomenon remain largely ----.

- A) transparent
- B) evident
- C) apparent
- D) accessible
- E) obscure

16.The report emphasizes that technological progress alone cannot ---- deep-rooted structural disparities within society.

- A) intensify
- B) aggravate
- C) perpetuate
- D) rectify
- E) provoke

17.The scientist advanced a ---- explanation suggesting that previously overlooked environmental variables might account for the observed pattern.

- A) definitive
- B) categorical
- C) rigid
- D) conclusive
- E) speculative

18.The policy has been criticized for being excessively ----, failing to accommodate the diverse needs of different communities.

- A) adaptable
- B) inclusive
- C) flexible
- D) rigid
- E) dynamic

19.Rapid demographic growth has ---- considerable strain on the already fragile infrastructure of many urban centers.

- A) imposed
- B) relieved
- C) reduced
- D) eliminated
- E) mitigated

20.Some reviewers contend that the conclusions of the study are somewhat ---- because they rely heavily on anecdotal rather than systematic evidence.

- A) persuasive
- B) compelling
- C) convincing
- D) robust
- E) conjectural

21. The discovery of additional fossil remains may ---- prevailing theories concerning early human dispersal patterns.

- A) reshape
- B) obscure
- C) constrain
- D) diminish
- E) restrict

22. The argument developed in the article is notably ----, drawing upon insights from philosophy, sociology, and political theory.

- A) narrow
- B) interdisciplinary
- C) fragmented
- D) isolated
- E) partial

23. Many analysts remain ---- about the long-term viability of the current economic strategy.

- A) confident
- B) convinced
- C) doubtful
- D) certain
- E) satisfied

24. The purpose of the investigation was to ---- the complex relationship between environmental degradation and public health outcomes.

- A) obscure
- B) distort
- C) overlook
- D) elucidate
- E) disregard

25. The lecture offered a ---- overview of the competing theoretical perspectives surrounding globalization.

- A) biased
- B) narrow
- C) incomplete
- D) partial
- E) comprehensive

26. The committee resolved to ---- further discussion until additional information became available.

- A) defer
- B) accelerate
- C) finalize
- D) conclude
- E) terminate

27. After numerous unsuccessful attempts to replicate the findings, the hypothesis was ultimately ----.

- A) validated
- B) corroborated
- C) confirmed
- D) refined
- E) repudiated

28. The article presents a remarkably ---- critique of contemporary consumer culture.

- A) mild
- B) perceptive
- C) superficial
- D) limited
- E) biased

29. The results of the study may ---- future environmental policy initiatives.

- A) constrain
- B) inform
- C) obstruct
- D) weaken
- E) hinder

30. The economist sought to ---- the intricate relationship between fiscal policy and economic growth.

- A) simplify
- B) overlook
- C) obscure
- D) complicate
- E) disentangle

31. The study revealed a ---- association between educational attainment and social mobility.

- A) substantial
- B) negligible
- C) trivial
- D) weak
- E) insignificant

32. The author's conclusions were widely regarded as ---- due to the absence of robust empirical support.

- A) convincing
- B) credible
- C) plausible
- D) contentious
- E) persuasive

33. The policy is designed to ---- regional inequalities in access to healthcare services.

- A) exacerbate
- B) intensify
- C) alleviate
- D) expand
- E) widen

34. The historian attempted to ---- the underlying causes of the political upheaval.

- A) obscure
- B) clarify
- C) distort
- D) ignore
- E) conceal

35. The experiment produced ---- findings suggesting that the proposed explanation might indeed be valid.

- A) contradictory
- B) inconclusive
- C) weak
- D) ambiguous
- E) persuasive

36. The report highlights the ---- repercussions of environmental degradation for vulnerable populations.

- A) long-term
- B) marginal
- C) negligible
- D) severe
- E) trivial

37.The analyst carefully ---- the available data before presenting the final report.

- A) compiled
- B) dismissed
- C) rejected
- D) ignored
- E) evaluated

38.The philosopher's ideas have ---- intense debate among contemporary scholars.

- A) suppressed
- B) eliminated
- C) generated
- D) avoided
- E) discouraged

39.The research provides ---- insights into the dynamics of international cooperation.

- A) obscure
- B) trivial
- C) marginal
- D) valuable
- E) redundant

40.Over time, the theory gradually gained ---- acceptance among members of the academic community.

- A) occasional
- B) partial
- C) limited
- D) reluctant
- E) widespread

